

Ava Kenney is a violinist from Madison, WI currently studying with Donald Weilerstein at the New England Conservatory. She has soloed with the Wilmington Symphony Orchestra, Madison Symphony, Milwaukee Symphony, Wisconsin Chamber Orchestra, La Crosse Symphony, Concord Chamber Orchestra, Middleton Community Orchestra, WYSO Youth Orchestras. As a passionate chamber musician, she received silver medals in both the 2023 Junior and 2024 Senior divisions of the Saint Paul String Quartet Competition, along with the BIPOC performance prize in the 2023 Junior division. Ava has also been both a Teaching and Ensemble Fellow through NEC's Community Performance & Partnership Program, and has been featured on NPR's From the Top, WPR's Midday Show, and WMVO Live. Some of her notable mentors have been Eugene Purdue, Annie Fullard, Mai Motobuchi, Merry Peckham, Kim Kashkashian, and Danielle Belen. Ava has spent her summers at Kneisel Hall Chamber Music Festival, Morningside Music Bridge, Center Stage Strings, Colburn's Sounding Point Academy, Bowdoin International Music Festival, Northwestern Summer Violin Institute, and Heifetz International Music Institute.